

Anti-Ragging Awareness Campaign at Mata Gujri College: Students Educate on Prevention and Legal Consequences

The computer science department of Mata Gujri College, Fatehgarh Sahib organised an anti-ragging campaign on 29 August 2024, in which the department students made everyone aware of ragging. The anti-ragging campaign was organised by the Computer Science Students Welfare Association and the students spoke about ragging with speeches. Some students raised awareness about ragging through video illustrations and told the audience that ragging can be done mentally and physically. The students gave information about sections 3 and 9 against ragging and also explained in detail the punishments for violating them. Apart from this, they also informed the students about the helpline numbers issued by the college for anti-ragging. The staff members of the computer department were also present in this campaign.
